Such files can be accessed by the client’s PC and the web server to store data, which may include personal data unique to the client/website. You can disable Cookies at any time by selecting this option on the website.

Types of Cookies We Use

Cookies can be used by us/third-party service providers to collect data on the site about your visits/visits by other users. This data may include: IP addresses, domain names, the pages they visit, and browser types. Such information is used to improve the functionality of the site, for promotional purposes to monitor the effectiveness using our web properties. Cookies are both temporary and permanent.

Our website uses the following tools and cookies:

- 1) Cookies are used to gather site metrics. Such metrics include how often people visit the site, how long the site stays open, which pages are viewed, what time of day they access more often, and how often users find out about notifications.
- 2) Required Cookies: such cookies are necessary for the correct work of the site. Cookies are enabled in most browsers by default. You can also change the current settings in your browser. For example, you have the options: automatically accept cookies, inform you before getting a cookie by using the “help” feature on your browser, and automatically deny cookies.

If you use our site with cookies not disabled in your browser, you accept that we use cookies. Also keep in mind that refusing to use cookies in your browser may prevent you from being able to use some of the features of our website.
